DEMOCRATS TRY TO HEAL WOUNDS OF SOUTHERN GROUP

Every Effort Being Made Upon Three Dixie Delegations

MAY COMPROMISE

Southern Wing Generally Rejects the 1952 Party Platform

By John R. Henry

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, July 24—(INS)—All possible persuasive power in the Democratic party was beamed like Southern sunshine upon three Dixie delegations today in a move to heal wounds caused by adoption of the "loyalty oath" rule.

Whether Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia delegates would accept a further compromise and remain seated in the convention seemed problematical.

The Southern wing of the party, meanwhile, generally rejected the 1952 platform which may yet lead to a defection of Southern electoral votes.

It was approved by a vocal majority last night even quicker than the "loyalty oath" was passed.

Except for the microphone appearance of Gov. Herman Talmadge, as chairman of the Georgia delegation, to go on record as voting against the 1952 principles, there was little commotion among the Southerners.

Adoption of the platform looked smoother than a greased toboggan in contrast to the wide open feud of 1948 over the civil rights plank. There was no outburst from Dixie delegates. They only smouldered.

Gov. Talmadge said this morning he had received some 200 congratulatory messages "from all over the country, not just from Georgia" for his opposition to the platform. He said:

"I specifically oppose the idea of a federal authority to enforce FEPC (Fair Employment), the curb on freedom of speech in the United States Senate (outlawing of the filibuster), and repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law."

A similar attitude was voiced by groups from Mississippi, Texas and segments of the Alabama and North Carolina units.

Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana, who declined to accept even the compromise on the loyalty issue, liked the platform no better. Sen. Burnett Maybank of South Carolina huddled with Gov. James F. Byrnes, arch-critic of the Fair Deal administration, hopeful some way can be found to keep the South Carolinians in the convention. Sen. Walter George of Georgia said he tried unsuccessfully yesterday to persuade Byrnes against walking out.

The South Carolina delegates gave the former "assistant president" a vote of confidence, then balked against appearing on the convention floor last night. They changed their minds when emissaries from the Virginia and Louisiana delegations asked them to attend.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, permanent chairman of the convention, avoided a show-down on the loyalty wrangle by averting a roll call.

Byrnes insisted early this morning he would not accede to the loyalty pledge. Gov. John Battle of Virginia took the same stand, asserting "the state's honor and a matter of principle are involved."

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana explained that he cannot interpret

INDUSTRIAL SHOW ONE OF INTEREST

HUNTERS' RIFLES ARE ON EXHIBIT

Local Manufacturers Have Fine Exhibits at Stroble's Showrooms

Attractive Display in Window of Bristol Hardware Co. Here

PUBLIC SHOULD SEE IT

SHOW RAPID LOADER

As part of their contributions to "Greater Lower Bucks County Week", several local industries have placed unusual and interesting displays in the showroom of William J. Stroble's Chrysler-Plymouth agency, Market and Cedar streets.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company (3M's), Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., Klemine Metal Products, Inc., and Happiness Aviaries have sections of the showroom for exhibitions of their particular products.

Probably the attention-getter will be the Bell exhibit. A huge map of Pennsylvania shows telephone company dollars at work in the state. On the map are such scenes and characters as William Penn, a soldier at Gettysburg, a Pennsylvania Dutchman, a Pocono skier, an oil well, an Indian, the lake beach at Erie and a Pittsburgh steel mill.

GIRL, WITH 5-OUNCE SUNFISH, WINS PRIZE

Patsy Gross, Pine Street, Wins Top Honors In Fishing Contest

BOY CAPTURES 2ND

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association, Inc., held a youth fishing contest on Tuesday in the waters in and around Bristol. It was a very satisfying contest with many children taking part. Seventy-five to 100 children took part. It was part of "Greater Lower Bucks Week."

The prizes were awarded at 1:30 p. m. at Silver Lake. Ollie Hobbs awarded the prizes to the first place winner who was Patsy Gross, a 10-year-old girl from Pine street. She won first place with a five-ounce, seven-inch sunfish which she caught in Silver Lake on bread dough.

The second place winner was Donald Adams, Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace, with a five-ounce, six-inch carp caught in the Lehigh Canal with bread dough. Third place went to John Adams, Pine street, with a bass (which was later released), four ounces, six inches long, caught in Otter Creek with worms. Their prizes were good bait-casting rods.

There were twenty fish weighed in. It seems the fish were not biting very well—that is, the big ones. Patsy was the first one to show up at the lake and she used a hand line to land the fish. There were a lot of good fishermen taking part in the contest, but they could not top Patsy's fish. Patsy was a very good sport—she even gave some of her bait to the other children who were fishing at the lake.

This was the first time a contest open to all the waters has been held in Bristol and the committee was very well pleased with the results. Contests always were held at Silver Lake but it is believed more interest was shown this year because the contest was held in all waters of Bristol.

A picnic dinner on the lawn was participated in by: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mullen and son Albert, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Scholl and son "Billy," Mrs. Frank McCormick and daughter, Patricia, Phila.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullen, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullen, Jr., and sons, Charles, 3rd, and Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mullen, Newville; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goll, Miss Betty Lou Goll, Hulmeville; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goll, Jr., and son Louis, 3rd, Oxford Valley.

Bensalem Rotary Club Hears Interesting Speaker

ANDALUSIA, July 24—Bensalem Rotary Club at its Tuesday evening meeting held in King Hall, Andalusia, had 35 members present and two visiting Rotarians, one from Bristol, the other from Hatboro.

The speaker was C. Dudley Ingerson, formerly a member and president of the Rotary Club at Seremban, Malaya, where he served as educational missionary to Malaya and presented to the club his views on the various racial, political, social and emergency problems that confront the British, which need to be solved before Malaya can have her freedom and govern her part of the world.

Mr. Ingerson very capably presented these problems, which seem to be nearly insurmountable. Mr. Ingerson is now residing in Andalusia and has been headmaster of Pen Ryn Episcopal school since July.

A former Bristol resident, Hugh J. Harkins, died suddenly yesterday at Hazleton, when he suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Harkins was formerly employed in the post office and the A. & P. market here; also in the Internal Revenue Dept., and the mint in Phila.

His wife, Marie, and seven children survive.

ITALY LOVES THE TOURISTS' MONEY BUT NOT INFUX

Not All Italians Are Happy Over Summer Spots Being Crowded

SOME VALUABLE TIPS

Italians Are Definitely Lovers of Cool Temperatures and Play Spots

Italy loves tourists and the money they spend, but not all Italians, as individuals, are so happy about the increasing invasion of their summer spots by Americans and other foreign visitors. The following report from Italy, another in the Courier's informal "Memo to America" from experienced U.S. newsmen all over the world, sizes up the situation with some valuable tips to any Americans planning a visit to the land of olives and opera.

THINGS THEY UNDERSTAND

Reprisal is not an inspiring method in the conduct of international relations. Yet it seems to be on occasion the only effective method. Most often that is the case in dealing with the communist governments.

Latest example is the ban imposed by the State Department on the Soviet Union's principal organ of propaganda in this country, the USSR Information Bulletin.

In explaining the action, Dr. Wilson Compton, director of the department's International Information Administration, commented:

"We stand, as always we have stood, for freedom of information, but we want it to work in both directions."

Simultaneously with its action against the USSR Bulletin and supplementary pamphlets and periodicals issued through the Soviet embassy, the State Department suspended publication in Russia of its own Russian-language magazine, Amerika. This, on the ground that there had been gradual circumvention by Soviet officialdom of a 1944 agreement guaranteeing Amerika would be permitted to circulate 50,000 copies freely in Russia.

Soviet officials are willing to take advantage of all the freedoms afforded here, while at the same time curtailing even the limited ones conceded to Americans in Russia. Washington's announcement held out the prospect that when Moscow is ready to live up to its agreement to let us tell its people the facts about America, we will again permit circulation of its propaganda here.

It is a poor bargain at best. But small concessions are hard won in dealings with Moscow. Reprisal seems to be the argument most easily understood.

TOURIST MILLIONS

According to the annual report of the British Travel and Holiday Association, Great Britain received more money last year from American tourists than she received from the sale of any single commodity exported to this country. That these American dollars, some 74,000,000 of them, served to make the British currency crisis less serious than it might have been is acknowledged by the association.

Apparently Britain's well-organized campaign to attract overseas visitors is meeting with success. The 1951 volume of this kind of traffic was 40 per cent greater than in the best year before the war, and the actual earnings last year, as a result of the money spent by 695,000 tourists, was $288,400,000.

That Americans who visit England feel they are getting their money's worth is indicated by the extremely heavy bookings already made for this summer. If the association's expectations are met, earnings from this source should reach $350,000,000 this year. Travel is indeed big business.

The standard troop award, the award presented by the council camping and activities committee for troop camping excellence were presented to No. 4 of Quakertown, No. 19 of Langhorne, No. 58 of Warrington, and No. 81 of Springfield Township No. 81.

The board of review from the Tockickon district of the council, headed by Earl Gaugler, district commissioner, and Norman Clymer, district chairman, advanced 37 Scouts to second class rank, 29 Scouts to first class rank, and awarded 78 merit badges.

The fourth week of camping got under way at Ockanickon on July 20 with 132 Scouts and eight leaders in camp.

The Bucks County Council Explorers held their annual swimming meet at camp on Sunday. Forty Explorers and their advisors attended the meet from the following towns: Doylestown Post No. 18 David Hewlett, advisor; Hartsville Post No. 8 Sydney Painter, advisor; Sellersville Post No. 1 Albert Wiedemeyer, advisor; Feasterville Post No. 78 E. Flemyer, advisor; Southampton Post No. 28 Bruce Harding, advisor.

The afternoon's efforts resulted in Feasterville winning with 20 points, Hartsville second with five points, and Sellersville and Doylestown tied for third with three points each. The winning post enjoyed a watermelon.

The highlight of the display, though, is its operation. When working, a figure on top of the display pours dollar bills into it, and a set of slats which form the map turn over to reveal a row of dollar bills! This process continues until the entire map is a mass of dollar bills, an impressive sight!

The 3M company, which has become internationally famous for its Scotch tape, has a large display of its products. Among them are the popular Scotch cellophane tape, Sasheen ribbons, adhesives and sealers for automotive use, the Lacleon metallic ribbon, masking tape, the Scotch hand dispensers, drafting tape and a freezer tape, which is especially made to adhere to wax paper used for storing foods in the refrigerator. The Scotch tape and the adhesives are made in the Bristol plant while the other items are made in other plants. The exhibit emphasizes school uses of the tape.

Many people in the Bristol area probably don't realize the extent of the products that Kaiser Metal manufactures. They include sinks, undersink cabinets, wall cabinets, base cabinets, bathtubs, shower stalls, aluminum storm sash and garage doors and steel garage doors. The exhibit here shows a sink with accompanying wall and base cabinets, a gleaming white metal display.

The Rohm & Haas tables feature their Plexiglas products, such as household appliances, nameplates and automobile medallions, many of which make a colorful display because of the varied techniques that can be used with this product. There is also an automobile sun visor with translucent sections of extruded green Plexiglas. Quite a few leather items are shown, items that have been treated with R & H chemicals, such as Ororon.

The Klemine display shows their barbecue rack, tool chest, clothes dryer and toy cash registers, many of which can be seen around the Bristol area. Visitors will find a tour of the Klemine plant in Edgely an interesting one to see how their products are assembled.

Although it is not an industrial display, yet it is a local commercial establishment, the Happiness Aviaries, 312 Wood street has three cages of birds, including canaries and beautifully plumed parakeets. Too, Mrs. Strobel has lined the window shelves with her large collection of plants, particularly African violets which seem to be very rich and well cultured.

This exhibit at Strobel's is another of the many interesting features in the downtown Bristol area this week. Be sure to see it!

Hunters' Rifles
Are On Exhibit

had to have some means of keeping his gunpowder dry. The powder horn served this purpose. This particular one also enabled the hunter to find his way through the Hudson valley because it is engraved with the forts and towns that were situated along the Hudson River in early New York, probably sometime in the 1760's.

The powder horn was often attached to another item shown—a hunting bag, used to carry balls, shot, patches, mould, chargers, and necessary tools. The early hunter often cast his own lead for bullets, and moulds for that purpose are on display. The visitor can also see a "cherry" or tool that was used to cut the mould to the size of the ball. There is also a tinder box in the exhibit.

The feature of the window is the rifle section. There are two Pennsylvania long rifles, or "Kentucks," as they were commonly called because Daniel Boone used this type of rifle in his trek into Kentucky. Pennsylvania gunsmiths, who made the rifles, took a flat bar of soft iron, hand-forged it into a gun barrel, bored and rifled it with crude tools, and fitted it with a stock of curly maple and a lock to fire it. This type of rifle was used successfully in the campaign against the British general, Burgoyne, at Saratoga in the Revolution. They were used for more than 100 years.

If you get to Mill and Radcliffe streets this week, be sure to visit some of the historical and antique exhibits. You'll learn facts about your county that you never knew before.

Make-up's a Matter of Color

She's going out to paint the town, so she chooses a lipstick in pretty pink to match the posies on her charming chapeau.

By HELEN FOLLETT

MANY smart women like to change the color of their lip pigment, have a flock of lipsticks in their make-up boxes. Seems a good idea!

With simple daytime clothes, they use a mildly lubricating type that makes their lips look shiny, rosy, moist and natural. In the evening they select something a bit more brilliant and dazzling. Comes darkness and you can go on a make-up binge, get away with it. The color of the skin isn't quite the same when the bright lights are on as it is in the daytime. Anyhow, that is what make-up experts say.

During cold weather one should use warm coloring when laying on the synthetic aids. During summer, make-up should have a cool look. That can be created by using a faint wild rose rouge, a lipstick darker but harmonious. Powder, of course, should be darker for the sun-kissed complexion that has taken on a golden cast. Always the aim should be to make

Labor Support of Hospital Continues

2954 (Steel Workers); Frank Field, local 375 (Gas and Coke); Harry Bloom, local 228 (Metal Workers); John Spadaccino, local 88 (Glass Workers); Paul E. Brown, local 404 (Steel Workers); Melvin Snyder, 1503 (Steelworkers); Hilda Dugan, 1838 (AFL); Joe Mylen, local 501 (Plant Guards); Harry Van Lenten, AFL (Printers' Union).

Speaking for labor, Frank Flatch, chairman of the United Labor Hospital committee expressed labor's view as follows. "I can only reiterate that organized labor recognizes the growing need for a local resident hospital. We have always been and are now ready and willing to assume labor's full share of responsibility and active participation in the hospital project in any way it is deemed necessary and best. We are also very pleased to be part of this important public relations committee, and shall cooperate with its chairman and members of the committee the best that we know how."

Mrs. Reba C. Goebig, chairman of the public relations committee in making known labor's contribution to her committee stated, "Speaking for this unit of Lower Bucks County Hospital organization, I cordially welcome these representatives of organized labor. There is a big job to be done, and their assistance is certainly essential. For the immediate present their assignment will be to cooperate with the various industrial concerns in seeing that all authorized publications be currently published on proper bulletin boards, etc. Then too, they have an important part in the second phase of the area survey now under way. The clearing and separating of the survey lists of new residents, and non-contributors into the proper category such as employees, community, etc., is in itself a job of major importance. The records of transferring employees can best be done by this group from labor cooperating with industry. We are very pleased to have labor continuing with us."

To increase the appearance of height in a room, accent the vertical lines by hanging draperies so that the heading is above the window frame, preferably at the ceiling line.

Italy Loves Tourists' Money, But Not Influx

of tongues these hot summer nights. English dominates but French, German, Spanish, Portuguese and the various Scandinavian languages "show" in considerable strength. Conspicuously absent is Italian.

The reason is that, like every summer . . . more than in past summers, practically every Italian of the smart set, who would normally frequent upper crust hotels and other city gathering places, has taken to the hills, mostly, and to a lesser degree to secluded sea-shore spots.

The Italians, who can afford it, are definitely lovers of cool temperatures — their blood benefits therefrom—and they have been for years fighting a silent but bitter battle against the tourist "invasion" of their vacation grounds.

A couple of decades ago Capri, for example, was practically unknown to foreigners. But then Count Galeazzo Ciano started building up the island and showing it off to his pal Herman Goering. Lesser stars of the Fascist firmament toed the Ciano line and Capri turned international.

Nearby Ischia and Positano, following Capri's fate, soon fell to the invasion of the visitors from abroad and the multitude of trinket makers and peddlers who precede and follow them as they move peacefully along Italy's "of pollo" (nobility to you) out of the pleasure spots they have worked years to create—for their own enjoyment.

You can say that Italian nobility is decadent but you would be dead wrong to say that it is decadent to the point that it is giving up the fight for summer seclusion in the face of the virtual tourist occupation of Italy from mid-June to mid-September.

No siree. Italy's "six hundred" (and many more) are several leagues ahead of the droves from Nordic Europe and the Americas. And they are showing a remarkable ability to uncover detectable rest spot where none thought they existed.

Hundreds of hotels are going up on the slopes of the Alps as the wealthy northern Italians take over for what may very well be the real vacation land of tomorrow—a spot where weary Americans and other non-Italians can breathe a breath of fresh air after burning and scorching themselves seeing the sights of the Eternal City.

But don't think for one minute that Italians, though they want to be far away from the tourist summer rush, are against it or are ignoring it. Nothing of the sort, more easily.

Every Italian is extremely conscious of tourism and what it means to Italy. This consciousness has never been as deep-rooted as it is today and as full of positive implications.

Year after year—during the "working" months—scores of schemes are studied with the declared purpose of making Italy of the summer ever more inviting to its paying foreign guests.

Improvement of the open-air opera—in Rome's breath-taking baths of Caracalla—has reached a new pinnacle this summer. And incidentally, this tourist influx is responsible for such operatic performances as are programmed this summer being made available for Italy's and Rome's little fry. One could say foreigners are helping solve Italy's social problem since poverty-ridden Italians could never hope to hear their top opera singers were it not for the attractions open-air opera has for the foreign tourists.

Open air concerts in Rome, Naples, the Boboli Gardens in Florence; dramatic performances in Pompeii and Sicily; the international film festival in Venice—these and other minor attractions have come into being and are improved each year solely for the tourist trade.

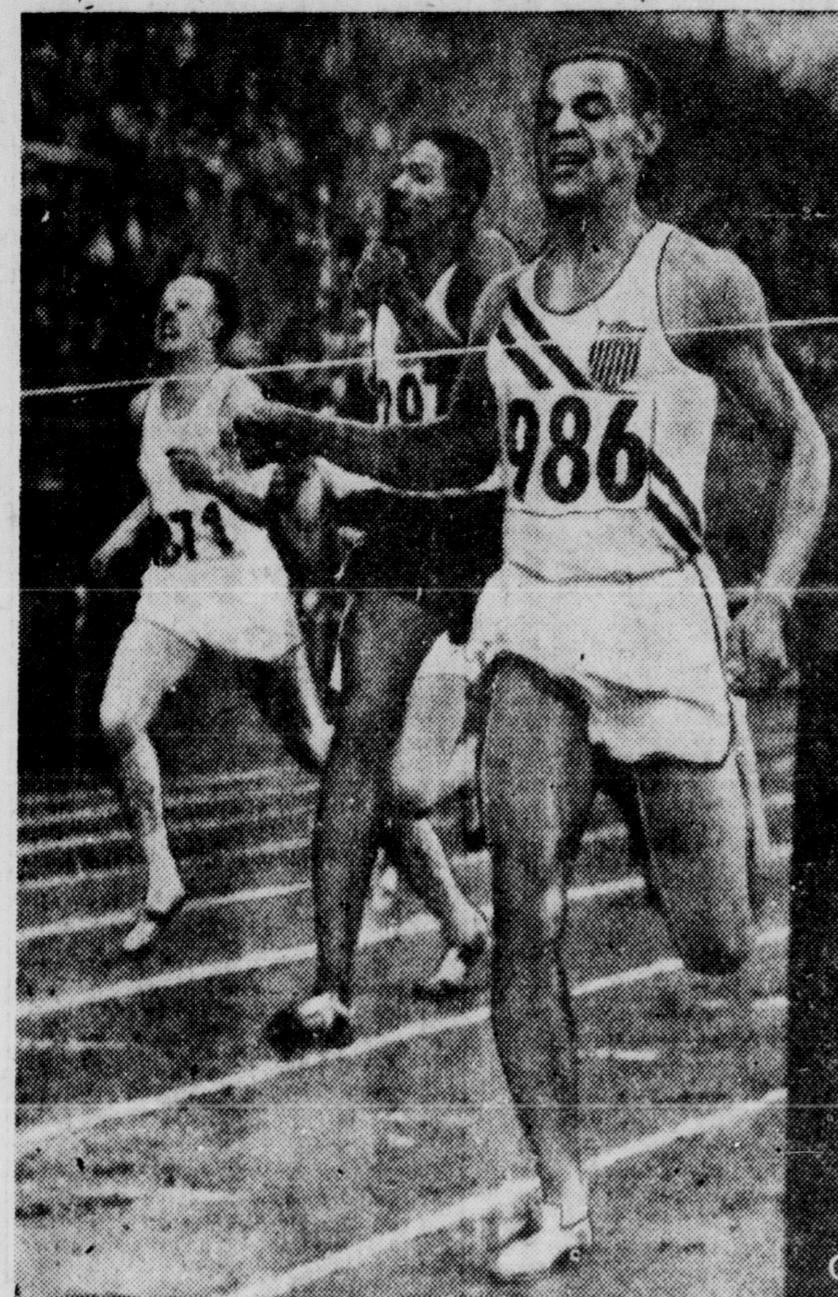

Italian hotel managers, responding to the advice of "experts," are now taking a new line on reservations. They no longer say their respective hotels are filled up for the next month or the next three months. They now say that every effort will be made to find accommodations either in the hotel desired or another hotel of the same class. In this way they have really been filling all Italian hotels this summer, and registering an all-time record high of tourists.

Where the Italians have been failing—some Italian tourist impresarios use the word "miserably"—is in the department of entertainment in the after-sunset-until-dawn hours. In short, the Italian scene is almost totally lacking such night life as Paris provides with its Folies Bergere and the scores of Montmartre shows.

But tourists of the coming summers may find this void filled. Pressure has been increasing and Italian authorities are desirous of matching the tourist stay in France—seven and more days average—instead of the 2.4 days average Italy now keeps them with all its glory of the Rome that was empire in Caesar's and Mussolini's day.

of tongues these hot summer nights. English dominates but French, German, Spanish, Portuguese and the various Scandinavian languages "show" in considerable strength. Conspicuously absent is Italian.

The reason is that, like every summer . . . more than in past summers, practically every Italian of the smart set, who would normally frequent upper crust hotels and other city gathering places, has taken to the hills, mostly, and to a lesser degree to secluded sea-shore spots.

The Italians, who can afford it, are definitely lovers of cool temperatures — their blood benefits therefrom—and they have been for years fighting a silent but bitter battle against the tourist "invasion" of their vacation grounds.

A couple of decades ago Capri, for example, was practically unknown to foreigners. But then Count Galeazzo Ciano started building up the island and showing it off to his pal Hermann Goering. Lesser stars of the Fascist firmament took the Ciano line and Capri turned international.

Nearby Ischia and Positano, following Capri's fate, soon fell to the invasion of the visitors from abroad and the multitude of trinket makers and peddlers who precede and follow them as they move peacefully loving Italian "oil polli" (nobility to you) out of the pleasure spots they have worked years to create for their own enjoyment.

You can say that Italian nobility is decadent but you would be dead wrong to say that it is decadent to the point that it is giving up the fight for summer seclusion in the face of the virtual tourist occupation of Italy from mid-June to mid-September.

No siree. Italy's "six hundred" (and many more) are several leagues ahead of the droves from Nordic Europe and the Americas. And they are showing a remarkable ability to uncover delectable rest spots where none thought they existed.

Hundreds of hotels are going up on the slopes of the Alps as the wealthy northern Italians take over for what may very well be the real vacation land of tomorrow — a spot where weary Americans and other non-Italians can breathe a breath of fresh air after burning and scorching themselves seeing the sights of the Eternal City.

But don't think for one minute that Italians, though they want to be far away from the tourist summer rush, are against it or are ignoring it. Nothing of the sort, more easily.

When Children Are Exposed To the Violent Side of Life

to the very type of violence we condemn in the totalitarian world?

A distinguished lecturer and counselor of parents told me this: "Recently a little friend, six years old, who views uncensored television programs a few hours a day, visited me. I showed him a photograph of my late husband. 'Where is he now?' he asked. 'He is dead,' I replied. Then the little fellow wanted to know who shot him."

I wonder how many young children suppose that all deaths are due to violence. Against this growing indoctrination that violence is the way of life and death, what can we parents and teachers hope to accomplish in our efforts at teaching kindness and sympathy and love and brotherhood and living for the betterment of all mankind?

Control Not Easy

Of course, we may say it is just a matter of proper selection by parents of what their young children may see or hear. Selection may be relatively easy as applied to comic books of violence. But who would say it is easy for parents to control the dial of radio or television? When enough parents really care, public pressure will aid in better protection of all children from the forces which teach them that a human life is very cheap.

In the meanwhile, let us be grateful for wholesome comics that make children and their parents smile, and for the many wonderful programs on the radio and television. Let us do our best to encourage educational institutions to develop and utilize the resources of radio and TV for exalting the imperishables and promoting the pricelessness of every individual person.

Become Hardened

Gradually hardened by what they constantly see and hear for their amusement, in print or on the air, and with general approval, how can these future citizens be very much shocked on learning of the actual mass slaughter of men and women?

When your child or mine on any day or several times a day may see or hear on the air several murders in a few minutes, how is he to learn that human life is precious? Isn't he being callous!

A sight seeing trip over the weekend to Baltimore, Md., was enjoyed by Mrs. Sara Sarings and son, "Bilbie".

The Improvement Committee of Fergusonville Community Center will hold a meeting July 25th at eight p. m. sharp. All sponsors and officers of the various clubs are asked to attend this important meeting.

RECIPES

Sweet Potato Biscuits
2 cups flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoon shortening
1/2 cups sweet potatoes, mashed
3/4 cup milk

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in shortening with a knife or rub in with the finger tips. Work the sweet potatoes into the flour mixture. Add milk and mix to a soft dough. Roll out on a slightly floured board to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut with a biscuit cutter. Bake in a quick oven (425 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. This dough will keep for several days if wrapped in wax paper and placed in the ice box.

This recipe makes 14 to 16 biscuits.

When Children Are Exposed To the Violent Side of Life

to the very type of violence we condemn in the totalitarian world?

A distinguished lecturer and counselor of parents told me this: "Recently a little friend, six years old, who views uncensored television programs a few hours a day, visited me. I showed him a photograph of my late husband. 'Where is he now?' he asked. 'He is dead,' I replied. Then the little fellow wanted to know who shot him."

I wonder how many young children suppose that all deaths are due to violence. Against this growing indoctrination that violence is the way of life and death, what can we parents and teachers hope to accomplish in our efforts at teaching kindness and sympathy and love and brotherhood and living for the betterment of all mankind?

Control Not Easy

Of course, we may say it is just a matter of proper selection by parents of what their young children may see or hear. Selection may be relatively easy as applied to comic books of violence. But who would say it is easy for parents to control the dial of radio or television? When enough parents really care, public pressure will aid in better protection of all children from the forces which teach them that a human life is very cheap.

Constantly we are reminded from the pulpit and the press and radio that our Christian-Judean philosophies in the liberty-loving nations extol the individuality of each human being as a precious personality. Yet while we are horrified at the actual murder of persons in the totalitarian countries who in any way displease their ruling leaders, we are exposing our children from the time they are mere infants to seeing and hearing, for amusement, murder and other violence to persons in some of our comic books and on some of our radio and television programs. Thus in their imagination they may become the murderers or the murdered.

Become Hardened

Gradually hardened by what they constantly see and hear for their amusement, in print or on the air, and with general approval, how can these future citizens be very much shocked on learning of the actual mass slaughter of men and women?

When your child or mine on any day or several times a day may see or hear on the air several murders in a few minutes, how is he to learn that human life is precious? Isn't he being educated?

Make Decision To Form A Lower Bucks Nurses' Ass'n

At the second meeting of nurses of this district, held Monday evening in the community building, Dorrance street, the Lower Bucks County Registered Nurses Association was formed. Mrs. Arthur Tago, Wilson avenue, presided.

Miss Barbara Shutt, social executive secretary of Penna. State Nurses Association, Harrisburg, gave detailed information on districts and the re-districting in the state. She said that the re-districting of District One, of which Bucks county is a part, is a question occupying attention at present. It was voted to form the nurses association, rather than have just a social club.

Miss Schutt suggested that the nurses organize, have regular meetings, elect officers, and bring stimuli into the organization to keep it alive.

A set of model by-laws was given Mrs. Rago by Miss Schutt. The by-law committee named consists of Mrs. Frank Lohr, Miss Gwendolyn Adams, Miss Mary Hurley. The by-laws will be presented at the next meeting.

A decision regarding nominating committee was held over until the August 18th session. Mrs. William White, Hulmeville, was elected hospitality chairman for that meeting. All registered nurses in lower Bucks Co. are privileged to join.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Andrew G. Solla, Th.D., D.D. Pastor, Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour

O Lord, our God, lift up the light of Thy countenance upon Thy people this day. Let Thy Holy Spirit rule their hearts, and may He be their strength and song in the house of their pilgrimage. We commit Thy inheritance to Thy gracious care, knowing that Thy grace is sufficient for all. This we ask for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

"Kiss and Tell" is Now Going Into Production

LANGHORNE, July 24 — Fresh and funny, staged in the Players' comedy tradition, "Kiss and Tell" by F. Hugh Herbert is the Langhorne Players newest hit now in production.

Scheduled for August 13, 15 and 16, "Kiss and Tell" has several tried and true situations highly polished for the occasion. The story deals with the problems of adolescence, small-town family feuds, back-porch love affairs, secret marriages and a pretty 15-year-old who tries to act several years older and scares her parents by letting them think she is going to have a baby.

Heavily loaded with the humor of teen-aged youth, the production is well acted by a cast of precocious youths and worried parents. The teen-agers include Jerri Morris as Corliss Archer, Mitchell Graff as Raymond, Karl Macon as Dexter and Janie Overington as Mildred. The harassed parents are played by William Macht as Harry Archer, Katherine Macon as Janet Archer, Madeline Sweeney as Dorothy Pringle, Carl Rayborn as Robert Pringle, Skip Mather as Mary Franklin and Charles VanSant as "Bill" Franklin.

HURLING DUEL PUT ON BY WHITE AND STANSKY

"Chick" Stansky and "Whizzer" White engaged in fine hurling duel last evening on Memorial field as Stansky and his Kaiser Metal mates nosed out Pacific Steel, 3-2, in a Bristol Softball League tilt. It was the first mound loss for White since he joined the boiler-makers' team.

Stansky allowed three hits while White gave up five. Of the five, four went to Frank Barbetta and Charlie Simmons and the other to Mack.

Of the hits permitted by Stansky, two came in the second when Pacific scored its first run and the other was a homer from the bat of Fred Costantino in the sixth.

The defeat hurt the Pacific chances of digging itself from the cellar.

Democrats Try to Heal Wounds of Southern Group

the loyalty pledge as anything but a contradiction of the instructions his delegates had from their state convention.

National Committee Chairman Frank McKinney told International News Service, on the other hand, that neither of the three states would be called on the roll until they had agreed on the loyalty pledge.

By James L. Kilgallen
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, July 24 — (INS) — President Truman, in all probability, will maintain a "hands off" policy and let the Democratic National Convention choose the candidate for the Presidency.

Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney, who has been in telephone touch with Mr. Truman twice a day since the convention started, told International News Service early today that the President will not interfere and impose his preference.

"I think President Truman will let nature take its course and allow the convention make its own decision," said McKinney.

Mr. Truman, said McKinney, is in "high spirits" and has been "vitally interested" in the convention and is "well satisfied" with the way things have been going in Chicago.

"In our conversations he has expressed no preference about the presidential nominee," McKinney added, although Truman is now supposed to be in favor of Sen. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

As time goes on, the importance of Thomas J. Gavin, Mr. Truman's alternate delegate from Missouri, begins to dwindle.

Gavin, a councilman of Kansas City, Mo., and vice-president of a brewery, has been carrying Truman's one-half vote in his hip pocket and refusing to say who it is for.

"I am sure Tom Gavin will pass when the Missouri delegation is polled," remarked McKinney, significantly.

The Missouri delegation is scheduled to hold a caucus this morning. "Inside information" a day or two ago was that the Truman one-half vote which Gavin would announce was to have gone to Vice-President Barkley who since has withdrawn from the race.

Since that development those "in the know" in the Missouri delegation have been at sea as to where Mr. Truman stands.

Forrest Smith, chairman of the Missouri delegation, said he anticipated that Mr. Truman would get in touch with the group "after the platform is adopted" — which it was, late last night.

McKinney said he expects that President Truman will arrive in Chicago about 5 p. m. (CDT) tomorrow by plane. He did not know whether Mrs. Truman would accompany the President. Mr. Truman will introduce the new Democratic presidential nominee to the party's 31st National Convention.

In Washington, aides said the President may fly from Chicago to his Independence, Mo., home after his convention speech and, if so, would stay in Independence to vote in the Missouri primary Aug. 5.

The plan of the Chicago convention was that Mr. Truman would arrive after the presidential nominee had been chosen. The convention, however, was running behind time and will have to speed up to meet the schedule.

A suite at the Blackstone Hotel has been set aside for President Truman and party.

FOUR HITS WITH TWO OUT WINS FOR AUTO BOYS

Four consecutive hits with two out in the sixth gave Auto Boys a 9-7 win over Minnesota Mining last evening on Conti's field in a Bristol Softball League game.

The score was tied at 7-7 due to a five-run rally by 3M's in the fifth when Jim Katz retired Palumbo and Lomma easily to start the sixth. But Addeo and Sallustio hit safely and then Tony Cauti and John Frank followed with a single and double, respectively, to clinch the tilt.

Auto Boys had 11 hits with Sugar Sallustio getting three out of four and Dick Addeo two out of three.

Chuck Hinkle and Chuck Kline had two for three for 3M's, the latter also having a homer with one on in the fifth.

LEVITTOWN, July 24 — In construction of 1 or 2 Levittown Pools to Get Under Way This Year

MODERN PURIFICATION

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, July 24 — Every home-owner in Levittown, and members of every family, are looking forward to the day when they can use cards which will be issued to them for entrance to the Levittown swimming pools.

The cards, it is announced by Maurice Beiderman, will be issued to each person buying a house in the community. Admission to pools will be by these cards, and all Levittowners may use the pools free of charge, he adds.

"Construction of one or two pools will get underway this year, and they will be finished by the summer of 1953," said Beiderman. "One pool will serve the master-block comprising Stonybrook, Farm Brook, and Green Brook; the second will care for the master-block of Lake Side and Pine Wood.

Pools, it is said, will be about the size of those at Levittown, N. Y., which are 75 x 125, with wading pool, 25 x 75, abutting. It is announced that there will be about eight pools in all.

"They will be equipped with the

The spokesman added that: "William Levitt, Sr., and his son Alfred have planned for pergolas, attractively painted, to be placed about the pools, making shady spots for beach chairs."

EMILIE

A meeting of Emilie Methodist Youth Fellowship was held Sunday evening at the home of Miss Beverly Bintiff, Edgely, with Miss Alice Mae Simon as co-hostess. Devotions were led by Mrs. Frank Hibbs. Miss Marjorie Roberts, Edgely, served as piano accompanist for group singing. Fourteen attended from Emilie, Fallsington, and Edgely. The affair was scheduled to take place on the lawn but due to rain, was held indoors.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. James Schoffstal, of Hollywood, Fla., are participating in a 30 days Caribbean cruise. The two left July 18 from a port at Galveston, Tex., having motored to that point. Eleven stops are scheduled in the cruise that will take them to South America, Panama Canal Zone and Puerto Rico. Mrs. Schoffstal will be remembered as the former Miss Elsie Rockhill, of

Emilie.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams spent a recent day at Mountainhome visiting Mrs. Williams' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Manhart. On Friday, Mrs. Williams attended funeral services for a relative held in Canadensis Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Geisel and family returned last week after spending 10 days visiting relatives in Wheeling, W. Va., and Chicago, Ill.

TULLYTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wood, Thomas Barrett, Baltimore, Md., spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Keaster.

Miss Alice Keeler is attending Mountainbrook Camp at Stroudsburg, for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Zan Colin, of Miami, Fla., were visitors a day last week of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strouse. Mr. Colin was a resident here when he was a child.

Mrs. Helen Nichols spent Saturday and Sunday at a hotel at Hershey, Pa., where she attended a picnic and meeting of the National League of District Postmasters (Penns. branch). Mrs. Caroline Warner of Trevose, was in attendance also.

MORRISVILLE ADDS TO POLICE FORCE
Borough Will Have Largest Force in Its History
C. MORRIS APPOINTED

MORRISVILLE, July 24 — Because of the increased traffic here and the influx of people into the area, this borough will have the largest police force in its history, effective August 1.

The addition of Clifton Morris, newly-appointed patrolman, will allow Chief John S. Davis to have two officers on duty at all times. Davis will be in the radio car from eight a. m. to four p. m. daily, and another patrolman will be assigned to the parking meters. The rest of the day and night will find two men on duty in the car.

Each patrolman will work 48 hours a week and will complete the circuit by working all shifts and the meter duty each eight weeks.

Members of the regular force include Harry J. Tomlinson, Stanley Naprawa, Joseph Cavanaugh, Joseph DiGiorgio and Frank Picciotti. In addition, there are part-time officers Jack McDonald and Wilbur Albright. Four school patrolmen—Lawrence Martinek, William Edinger, Stanley Ford and John Busche—also come under Davis' jurisdiction.

Children of All Ages
Take Part in Exercises

NEWPORTVILLE, July 23 — Daily Vacation Bible School exercises of Newportville Community Church were held Friday evening under the direction of the Rev. William S. Woodman, William Foster and Mrs. Fred Kohler, Sr.

The program was opened with the salute to the American flag, followed by the singing of "America the Beautiful," the pledge to the Christian flag and the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," a pledge to the Bible and singing "Wonderful Words of Life."

The three- and four-year-old children, led by Mrs. C. Melvin Johnson, sang "The Church Bells Say" and repeated a Bible verse.

The five and six year olds, led by Mrs. Frederick Grace and Mrs. Fred Kohler, Jr., sang "Little Light of Mine," "Fishers of Men," and "The B-I-B-L-E."

The Junior class, in charge of Mrs. Herman J. Becker, Sr., and Mrs. James Grego, had as its topic "Keeping God's Time." They made folders of clocks and time pieces, also puppets and used them in

Charles Shagg and Mrs. Charles W. Bilger, recited the Beatitudes and they recited. The group sang three motion songs: "When He Cometh," "The Little Light of Mine," "Fishers of Men," and "The B-I-B-L-E."

The oldest class of children was in charge of Mrs. Myron Mattocks and Mrs. Fred Kohler, Sr. They Search for Scripture text and had a Bible quiz. They recited Psalm 121.

The pianist was Miss Marjorie Cameron.

The small children received illuminated pictures with a cross on same. The older children each received a small gold cross pin. The parents viewed the work the children had done at Bible School.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

PHILADELPHIA COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

In the opinion of counsel, interest on the Bonds is not subject to income taxation by the United States under existing statutes and decisions. The Act authorizing the issuance of these Bonds provides, among other things, that "Bonds issued by any Authority, their transfer and the income therefrom, (including any profits made on the sale thereof) shall at all times be free from taxation within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

New Issue

$1,985,000

Lower Bucks County School Authority

Langhorne, Bucks County, Pa.

3%, 2 5/8% and 2 3/4% SCHOOL REVENUE BONDS, SERIES A

Dated August 1, 1952

Due serially August 1, 1955 to 1992, inclusive

Bonds maturing August 1, 1958 and thereafter are subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the Authority on and after August 1, 1957 either as a whole at any time, or in part from time to time, on any interest payment date in inverse numerical order, upon payment of the applicable redemption prices set forth as follows, in each case together with accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption: August 1, 1957 to July 31, 1962, 104%; August 1, 1962 to July 31, 1967, 105%; August 1, 1967 to July 31, 1972, 102%; August 1, 1972 to July 31, 1977, 103%; August 1, 1977 to July 31, 1982, 101%; August 1, 1982 to July 31, 1987, 100 1/2%; August 1, 1987 and thereafter, 100%.

These Bonds will constitute, in the opinion of counsel, valid and legally binding obligations of the Lower Bucks County School Authority payable solely from and secured by fixed annual rentals payable under a lease agreement between the Authority and the six School Districts comprising a Joint Board known as Neshaminy School Board and the Joint Board. The fixed rentals will be assigned and paid directly to the Trustee under the Indenture for application by it as required by the Indenture. Each School District will covenant to pay a certain share of said fixed rental (as determined in accordance with the agreement establishing the Joint Board) out of its current revenues, which will include ad valorem school taxes, state reimbursements and other revenues, and will also covenant to include in their respective annual budgets an amount sufficient to provide for the payment of their respective shares of the fixed annual rental payable under the lease and of the other costs and expenses payable under the lease including the expenses of operation of the Joint School. Neither the credit nor the taxing power of any of the School Districts or of the Joint Board or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any political subdivision thereof other than the Authority is pledged for the payment of the principal of, the interest upon, or the premium (if any) payable upon the redemption of the bonds.
